Takes Possession of Disabled Horses, Which Will Be Put Out of Existence.
Friday afternoon, local Agent P. A. Weeks of the Humane society received a telephone message from a man between here and Ashford that a man was driving a horse totally unfit to be driven, towards this city, and that the animal will be killed, and if the fellow was using the horse and the horse was not fit to be driven, the man came along he nabbed him before he had an opportunity to get out of the way.
The horse was in pretty bad shape and had hardly a leg fit to stand on. The animal was taken to the city and it was understood that the man, André Kula, will pay the cost of killing and burial, and may not be prosecuted, although Agent Weeks has reported the case to Attorney Samuel B. Harvey, who is acting as the Connecticut Humane society in this vicinity. Mr. Kula gave his residence as Ashford and said that he was willing to stand the costs incident to the execution and burial of the animal.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT.

Peter Ducharme of North Windham Accused of Taking Ring and Money.

Peter Ducharme of North Windham was arrested Friday evening at 10:30 o'clock by Officer Alvin McArthur and locked up on the charge of theft from the person. He will be arraigned in police court this morning. Complaint was made at headquarters by Fred Belgrave of South Coventry who alleged that Ducharme stole a wallet containing a man's gold ring and $5 in money from his pocket, while he was in a chair in Jack Nichols' saloon on Main street. Officers went to the place and upon entering the front door, Ducharme seeing them, hid by the back entrance, but was later taken on the street. When searched at the station house he was found with the ring in a corner of a handkerchief and the wallet and the money were gone.
Ducharme claims that Belgrave gave him the ring to keep until this morning. To another, he said that he had owned the ring for fifteen years and that it was given to him by his mother. He said that he was with it for anything. He said that he only wore it when he dressed up and had a white collar on.

OBITUARY.

James M. Reid.
James M. Reid, 82, died at his home, 38 Windham road, Friday afternoon, following a general breakdown in health. Mr. Reid was well known in this city, where he had made his home since 1882. He was a native of Scotland, born in Ochiltree, March 2, 1828. He came to this country when twenty-five years of age.
He was for many years a chemist, employed in the dyeing department of the Willimantic Lint Company, now the American Thread company. He left that concern in 1881 and has since been on the retired list.
There survive a widow and one daughter, Miss Alice J. Reid, who lives at home. He was a member of niece and nephews, one of the latter being T. Frank Howie, superintendent of the five mills of the American Thread company, where the uncle was for so long employed.

To Reside With Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Turner.
Rev. Richard H. Gidman, who has been living with Rev. W. H. Brown and family of Windham for a number of years past, will in future make his home with Rev. Robert E. Turner and family of Lebanon. Mr. Turner is Rev. Mr. Gidman's daughter.

No Game With Middletown.
There was no game between the Middletown and Windham high school basketball teams at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Friday afternoon, as the management of the local team cancelled the game at the eleventh hour. Several of its best players. It is rumored that the game has been postponed, but there is no word from anyone who can tell when the big game will take place. Middletown will begin to feel the effects of the cancellation of the game. An athletic team of any kind should be so trained that if a couple of men upon whom the balance have been accustomed to rely are for the time incapacitated, that their positions could be credibly filled by worthy substitutes. The local team has good subs; all they need is a chance, and by giving them a chance in a game, an emergency they oftentimes make good and even excel the so-called regulars. Middletown would do well to remember if the subs were given a little encouragement now and then.

A Godsend to the Sleepless.

"A Physical Wreck in Bed, Back on the Job in Three Days, after Taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, Which Restored My Health and Enabled Me to Sleep."

Mr. James Byrne writes as follows:—"I want to tell you of the benefit I have derived from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I am a hotel clerk 32 years of age and for four years have been at night work. Eating irregularly and trying to sleep in the daytime had made me a very weak man physically, and as the saying is, 'I was finally compelled to take to bed.' I started to use your Pure Malt Whiskey and in 3 days I was back on my job.

"Be sure and say to every night worker that it is a Godsend. Tell them I am sleeping fine, eating with a real appetite and am regaining my lost flesh, which is the hardest thing for a night worker to do. I thank you again and again for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."—James Byrne, 129 S. Illinois St., Indianapolis, Ind.

No medicine has stood the test of 50 years like Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and always been found absolutely pure and full of good medicinal virtue. Men and women in all walks of life join in singing its praises as the true elixir of life which invigorates body, brain and nerve.

Ellen Ryan Committed to Norwich State Hospital—Man with a Gun in Sake Keeping—Plan for Games with Southbridge.

Adjudged insane, Ellen Ryan, 60, who has lived alone for several years in a house near the Den Tavern, was taken to the Norwich State Hospital Friday afternoon for commitment to the State hospital. Thursday night, the woman, who has been mentally incompetent for a long time, visited the home of John Lowe, nearby, with the insane idea of attacking him. She was driven away by the police. Mr. Lowe interfered with his visitor's plan and he in turn became the object of the woman's wrath. The first blow from a stick she carried fell smartly against the head of John Lowe, who was lying in bed. She then turned against his wrist as he raised his arm to ward off the attack.

Presented before Justice Fuller in the city court on a charge of assault, it became apparent that she was of unsound mind, and the conclusion was later concurred in by Dr. P. A. Morrell and Dr. J. J. Russell, who were called to examine her. The subject of the case was committed to the State hospital. The woman was later committed to the State hospital. The woman was later committed to the State hospital.
